Kim!

Kimberly R. Lock, affectionately called Kim, is a dynamic speaker, publisher, author, and teacher with a passion to help women heal, forgive, and find their God given purpose.

Kim's passion is fueled by her own testimony of growing up knowing who her father was but being painfully aware of his choice to not be in her life. Two things helped her become the woman she is today, despite the effects of a childhood filled with uncertainty and pain. The first thing was making the choice to dedicate her life to her first love, Jesus Christ. The second was courageously picking up her pen and writing her first book entitled, Who You Callin' Silly? How a silly woman becomes virtuous. Kim found freedom in her first book and went on to author several others. She then decided to create a space that would allow others to experience the same freedom and founded KRL Publishing. To date, KRL Publishing has guided and supported many authors on the journey of turning their ideas and stories into life impacting books.

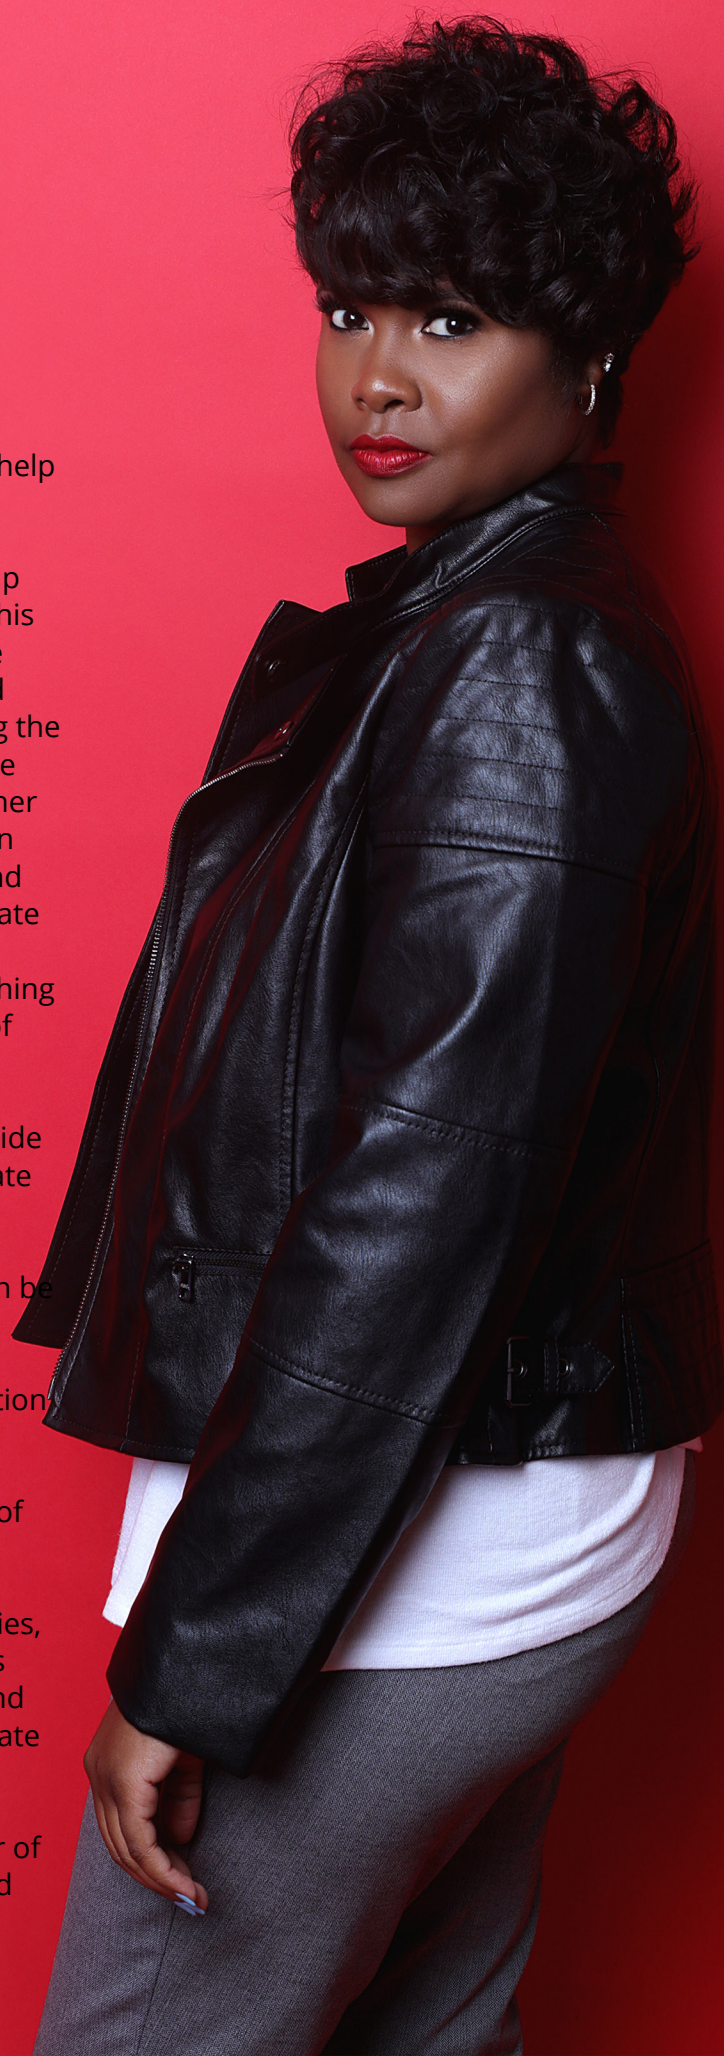

In late 2019 Kim launched an online course: A Spiritual Guide to Authorship, designed to help students spiritually navigate their journey to authorship.

Kim also has a popular online devotional and blog that can be accessed daily through her free app.

Kim has a Bachelor's degree in Management and Information Systems, and a Master's Degree in Telecommunication. Kimberly returned back to school and received a Master's degree in Christian Apologetics from the Rawlings School of Divinity at Liberty University, May 2020.

Kim also launched a non-profit organization (Nanna's Babies, Inc.) in honor of her mother, which speaks to her mother's continual message of active engagement in a child's life and for a single parent to not allow their circumstances to dictate the future of both the parents or the child(ren).

Kim is the proud wife of Pastor Marlon Lock, Senior Pastor of Unity Gospel House of Prayer in Milwaukee, Wisconsin and are the devoted parents of 5 beautiful children.

Author

Kimberly Lock had no desire to write a book. In fact, she often states: “Being an author was never on my list of career options.” There are a few matters that were never on Kimberly’s list:

- Being the wife of a Pastor
- Being a mother of 5 children
- Losing a child through death
- Having an estranged relationship with her dad
- Launching her own publishing company

As with most of us, life brings about many unexpected challenges. The question then raised is: “What are you going to do about it?”

Kimberly Lock began her journey of writing in 2011, while pregnant with her 5th child. She was uncertain if writing was an uncharted dimension that she was supposed to pursue. Kimberly questioned within herself: “Who is going to listen? Who will read this book? What makes me credible to write?” As she prayed and sought the Lord for guidance, she heard a voice say: “I made you credible.”

Philippians 4:13: I can do all things through Christ, who strengthens me.

KRL Publishing

KRL Publishing was birthed from an unrealized and unexpected vision. In a dream, she met a renowned speaker and author who suggested to her that everything Kimberly Lock touches would turn to gold.

After years of research, self-publishing, and failed attempts at traditional deals, owner and Author Kimberly Lock was reminded by one of her confidants that she already possessed the tools to launch her own publishing company. Thus, in January 2017, KRL Publishing, LLC was launched. Kimberly Lock used the verbiage from her dream as her slogan. Kimberly Lock states: "If everything I touch will be blessed, I'll do my due diligence to touch the passions of others so that their literary projects are blessed as well."
